SEAKEEPER REPORTS UNPARALLELED GROWTH IN 2015

CALIFORNIA, Md., (February 9, 2016) – Seakeeper reported record growth for 2015. The privately-held, Maryland-based company is the global leader in marine stabilization. Launched in 2008, it now has over 3,000 units in operation on vessels ranging in size from 30'–220'.

The business saw a 57% growth in shipments over 2014. Setting the pace was the 50' and under market, where there previously was no option for stabilization. With its new SK5 and SK3DC, Seakeeper answered the demand of small boat owners looking for stabilization to transform their on-the-water experiences.

Significant growth was also achieved in the refit sector where customers took advantage of the opportunity to update existing craft with the latest technology and the ease at which it can be done with Seakeeper's global refit network. The company saw an 80% increase in refit installations, making it over 25% of Seakeeper's total business.

"We have a product that has transformed how people experience being on a boat," said Andrew Semprevivo, Seakeeper VP of sales and marketing. "With our year over year growth, there's been an explosion of first-hand Seakeeper experiences and consumers are now understanding exactly what the product can do. The perception has shifted from luxury add-on to fundamental necessity. Once you experience it, you'll never want to be on a boat without it."

Adding to first-hand consumer experiences, Seakeeper's Contender 35 ST provided over 1,000 demo rides during its summer Take a Ride, Be Amazed demo tour. The boat routinely saw a consistent roll reduction of 95% in a wide range of sea states and speeds.

Adding to Seakeeper's exposure, a video of a demo went viral and received over 2.5 million views within the first 36 hours of the Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show. In 2015, web traffic to www.seakeeper.com was up 64% and its Facebook presence topped 11,000 Likes. Firmly committed to providing customers exceptional global access to quality product support, Seakeeper expanded its roster of certified service and installation centers. In 2015, it trained over 260 people representing 82 companies around the world.
